Many tennis clubs now use Austronet printed tennis windbreaks not only as a way of promoting their clubs and tournaments, but also as a way of generating additional income. They are getting local companies to sponsor the windbreaks around their courts by having them overprinted with the companies logo and web address or telephone number.

We recommend that clubs check their tennis court fencing to ensure they are strong enough to take tennis windbreaks. Sunbaba cannot accept any liability for damage caused by our screens being used in strong winds or on exposed sites. If you would like further information or prices please give us a call.
