

A hat trick of new products was unveiled at this year's Showman's Show to an enthusiastic response from both new and existing clients. Two highly versatile new promotional items and a fantastic new type of digitally printed flooring will be added to our portfolio for 2012. These new items will also be on display when we exhibit at the Event Production Show at Olympia in February and at the inaugural IOEX at Excel in March. Individual detail on each of the new products can be found below, via our website, or just give us a call.

Cube Seats

The cube seat is a fantastically innovative product and can be used singularly as a seat or combined to create a dynamic advertising wall or design feature. Creative marketers can use the six available printed sides to create changeable, interactive features for their events, exhibition stand or sales promotion.

Digitally Printed Flooring

Digitally printed Flexi-Floor offers you the chance to turn your overlooked floor-space in to an integral part of your event. Whether it's an illustration, high-resolution photographic image or a world map, flexi-floor will add an extra dimension to your exhibition, catwalk or product launch.

Custom Beanbags

Our fantastic new customisable beanbags present a multitude of advertising possibilities. When used on an exhibition stand they will offer an irresistible lure to your potential customers and provide a unique and fun way to brand your company or product.
